HEAT IN S. F. KILLS TWO; 80 PROSTRATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—(UP)—San Francisco's celebration of California's 32nd birthday as a state turned out to be the "hottest celebration" ever staged here.

The weather took a hand in the proceedings, pushing the temperature to 100 degrees. Two men died from the heat and 80 prostrations were reported. It was the hottest day here since 1913, according to the weather bureau.

Frank Williams, 40, and Alex Larsen, 75, died from effects of the high temperature.

Other California cities reported similar "hot celebrations." It was 102 degrees at Sacramento and Fresno, and 112 at Needles.

People who fail to lead blameless lives have only themselves to blame.

Comb Chicago For Missing Dry Leader

FRIENDS OF COL. ROBINS GIVE CLUE

Two Persons Report Seeing Lost Reformer Near Loop District; Cheer Searchers

WIFE IS DOUBTFUL

Still Fearful Husband is Victim of Rum Runners Enemies of Sovietism

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Prohibition agents today were ordered to follow clues in New York and Chicago which might connect the disappearance of President Hoover's friend, Col. Raymond Robins, with activities of foes of the Soviet Union of Russia.

Similar investigations have been undertaken by police and United States secret service agents in these cities.

Officials said these clues while vague might throw light on the disappearance of Col. Robins, prohibition advocate and leader of a movement for recognition of Soviet Russia by the United States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Hope of President Hoover and high administration officials that Col. Raymond Robins, missing friend of the president would be found alive and well increased sharply today as crack government detectives centered their nationwide hunt for the peace and prohibition crusader in Chicago, where two persons have reported seeing him.

If the missing reformer was actually in Chicago Thursday as two friends there of the crusader said, it was believed he was a victim of amnesia and not of a bootleg ring, as his wife had feared.

Appeared Downcast
Mrs. W. Reuq Bryant, Evanson, Ill., and W. W. Haupt, both old friends of Robins, reported seeing him near the crowded Chicago loop Thursday. He appeared downcast, but not mentally aberrant, they said.

The powerful government detective agencies worked on the Chicago angle of the case today, but did not neglect trying to run down the divergent theories of friends and the wife of the missing prohibition leader, that he might have been kidnapped by liquor interests or by those opposed to his fight for recognition of Soviet Russia.

Robins disappeared in New York last Saturday after checking out of the City club. He ostensibly planned to come to Washington for an arranged conference with President Hoover on Tuesday.

Indians Hold Parley On Tribe Welfare

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—(UP)—American Indians, especially members of the five civilized tribes of Oklahoma, gathered here today to map plans to remedy what they described as federal bureaucratic rule.

The Indians discussed means to relieve distress of those living in Southern California. Reports included one on progress of the Oklahoma tribes suit to regain $300,000,000 from the federal government for confiscated land.

Orange county orange growers and packing houses that have agreed to enter into the prorate agreement are waiting expectantly to see what action is taken by members of the M. O. D., which represents 12 per cent of the Valencia crop of the state.

Will Decide Fate
The fate of the prorate scheme hinges upon the decision made by the M. O. D. members and individual growers. With the M. O. D. in the scheme, the required 90 per cent of the total state Valencia crop will be in the agreement.

M. O. D. houses in Orange and other counties even now are making arrangements for mass meetings of the growers to learn what their position in the matter is. The Garden Grove house has set next Friday at 7 p. m. as the time for their mass meeting, according to John C. Uchida, president of the Orange County Farm Bureau who is the official representative of the Garden Grove house to the central M. O. D. board of directors. The meeting will be held in the Womans' clubhouse.

May Send Questionnaires
Some of the houses may send questionnaires to their members, instead of holding mass meetings. Following the securing of the required information, the central board of directors will meet again on September 19 to make known the definite decision.

Proponents of the prorate plan who have been working unceasingly toward the successful culmination of the plan, are vitally interested in settling the plan to work this season. If the plan is put into operation this season it will afford an opportunity to work out the "links" in the plan it was said.

There is more fruit to be shipped yet this season than in any other season in the past, according to leaders.

Prosecutor To Request Court Order

Want Capt. Forsythe Held as Material Witness for Grand Jury Quiz

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Bronx District Attorney McLaughlin announced today he would ask a county court judge to hold under $20,000 bail Captain Alexander Forsythe, owner of record of the ferry observation which was torn by an explosion yesterday taking 39 or more lives. McLaughlin wants him as a material witness for the grand jury.

McLaughlin said Forsythe, as owner, was legally responsible for any negligence that might have contributed to the tragedy.

START FOUR PROBES OF SHIP DISASTER
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Four investigations of the terrible explosion on the ferry observation, which previously caught fire twice and sank twice, tried to fix the blame today for the death toll of 37 or more.

But no actual knowledge of what caused the old excursion steamer to blow up in the East river while loaded with 150 men going to work, was forthcoming.

LEGION CHIEF SOUNDS NOTE WARNING VETS

Must Consider Public in Future Requests for Relief, Note Says

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Commander Henry Stevens Jr., of the American Legion, in his annual report defends present veteran legislation, at the same time warning that future requests for relief must be made in consideration of the public as well as the veteran. A plea for support of the national defense acts was also made by Stevens.

The report will be submitted to the national convention of the Legion Monday, but was released for publication by Stevens' office today.

"It is my considered opinion that every single bit of legislation that has been proposed by the Legion and subsequently enacted by congress," Stevens said, "for the benefit of veterans has been fortunate enough to become law for two reasons, and two reasons only. First, the equity of our demands, and second, the gratitude of the American people to those who served, which gratitude has been expressed by the people through their official representatives in the house and senate.

Must Use Care
"Therefore," he continued, "the Legion must be careful to see that the things requested by us are conceived and inaugurated in the greatest measure of justice and equity, not only from the viewpoint of the veterans, but likewise that of the public at large. God grant that the day never comes when the American people will have the right to say that veterans who served so unselfishly for their country during war days have forgotten in times of peace the same high obligation to state and nation that first made their names immortal."

RECALLING WORKERS IN ALL LINES

Freight Car Loadings for Past Week Highest Since May; Show Fourth Gain

MORE STEEL ORDERED

Retail Trade Reports Many Increases in Trade as Cool Weather Nears

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Business began the "fall" season this week with encouraging gains, and with thousands of workers recalled in anticipation of heavier orders.

Practically all of the leading business indices were at their best levels since early July. Several, such as railroad car loadings and electrical power production, showed greater than seasonal expansion.

Ford Factories Reopen
The vast Ford factories reopened at River Rouge after a shutdown of three weeks, and many other companies speeded up manufacture of various fall merchandise. This tendency has been pronounced in the textile industry.

Cooler weather in many sections of the country gave retail trade much needed stimulus. Many stores reported heavier business than in many weeks.

One of the most hopeful signs of business improvement was the steadily increasing number of freight cars being handled by the railroads. Loadings last week were the highest since May and showed the fourth successive weekly increase.

Power Use Increases
Consumption of electrical energy, which has shown successive gains in the past three weeks of the week ended September 3 was only 10.4 per cent under a year ago, compared with a loss of 12.3 per cent in the preceding week.

The office equipment industry, one of the first to feel minor business fluctuations, is operating at 26 to 32 per cent above a month ago.

The rate of steel production, while disappointing, this week rose to 141-2 per cent of capacity, against 13 per cent last week and with further gains indicated.

Another favorable straw is the check in the rate of telephone disconnections. The Bell system, after making seasonal allowances, lost only 201,000 subscribers in August, against a loss of 268,000 in (Continued on Page 2)

GROWERS WILL DECIDE M. O. D. PRORATE MOVE

Directors Decide to Leave Decision up to Members or Organization

THE QUESTION as to whether the Mutual Orange Distributors will join with other orange houses in the new plan for prorating Valencia orange shipments from California, will be put directly to the growers-members of the organization, it was decided at a meeting of the central board of directors held yesterday in Redlands.

Orange county orange growers and packing houses that have agreed to enter into the prorate agreement are waiting expectantly to see what action is taken by members of the M. O. D., which represents 12 per cent of the Valencia crop of the state.

Will Decide Fate
The fate of the prorate scheme hinges upon the decision made by the M. O. D. members and individual growers. With the M. O. D. in the scheme, the required 90 per cent of the total state Valencia crop will be in the agreement.

GERMANY WILL ASK DELAY IN DEBT PAYMENT

Government Confirms Rumor That Postponement Will Be Requested

BERLIN, Sept. 10.—(UP)—The German government today confirmed that it is planning to ask Washington to postpone the semi-annual payment of 33,000,000 marks due on Sept. 30 as arrears on the costs of the United States army of occupation and other mixed claims.

Official announcement, however, has been withheld pending further conversations between the German embassy in Washington and the American government.

It is understood that whereas it was first intended to ask a postponement of two and a half years, a longer period may be requested. If an agreement is reached with the United States it is understood that Germany intends to open negotiations with other creditor nations such as Belgium, seeking to postpone payments due.

The government is carefully avoiding the word "moratorium."

MAN JAILED OVER EXTORTION ATTEMPT

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Isaac Rubidoux, 23, member of a pioneer Riverside family, was held in the county jail today accused of attempting to extort $5000 from C. W. Benedict, wealth rancher.

Rubidoux was arrested last night in a trap set by county detectives and District Attorney Earl Redwine. Two detectives had hidden in the tonneau of Benedict's automobile and arrested Rubidoux when he approached the car in which he allegedly had instructed Benedict to leave the money.

The youth assertedly confessed writing threatening notes demanding the money, Redwine announced.

These loans brought the total amount authorized by the corporation during the past six weeks to relieve destitution to $19,081,746.

The corporation said that $375,000 has been loaned to Washington to meet current emergency relief needs in King county, where Seattle is located.

The loans to Colorado and Arizona were for $250,000.

CO-ED HONORED ON FINAL DAY OF STATE FAIR

Marjorie Casey Reigns at Final Session of Fiesta as "Miss California"

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Miss Marjorie Casey, 18-year-old Sacramento girl and University of California co-ed, reigned as "Miss California" over the closing events of the California State Fair today.

She was chosen for her beauty and intelligence and will preside as hostess at the California exhibit at the Chicago World Fair in 1933.

Chose Alternates
Miss Mary Hoffman, 24, of San Pedro, was chosen first alternate, and Mrs. Dorothy Bordagary, 18, of Roseville, Italian-haired bride of "Frenchy" Bordagary, outfielder of the Sacramento baseball club, was named second alternate.

Although attendance records were sure to fall below those of last year, fair directors were optimistic over the numbers that passed through the turnstiles yesterday and today. For the first six days of the fair the total attendance was 203,000, or approximately 60,000 under the total for the same period in 1931.

FARMERS, JOBLESS START EXCHANGE

TULARE, Calif., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Dissatisfied with present economic conditions, farmers and unemployed laboring men today opened a cooperative labor, food and commodity exchange here.

The plans called for exchange of commodities between farmers and exchange of food for labor. No money was to change hands. Exchanges were to be on the basis of "real" rather than current values of food and labor, proponents said.

NATIONAL CITY BANK ABSOLVED OF WAR SCHEME

Japanese Foreign Minister Issues Statement Regarding Picture Furore

TOKIO, Sept. 10.—(UP)—A statement absolving the National City Bank of suspicion in connection with a series of photographs of industrial plants it had taken for publication in advertising matter was issued this afternoon by Foreign Minister Uchida after a conference with Joseph Clark Grew, United States ambassador to Japan.

Ambassador Grew had called upon the minister for a complete investigation into charges published by the Vernacular Press that the photographs were for foreign military use.

Probe Launched
Uchida received the American ambassador at 3 p. m. and informed him that an investigation already had been launched into statements made in certain vernacular newspapers. His formal statement absolving the bank, which is a unit of the National City Bank of New York, was issued a short time later.

Minister of War Sadao Araki scoffed at the suspicion cast upon the bank during an interview with the United Press late today.

"Personally, I think the charges are absurd and should not be given the slightest attention," he said. "They merely reflect the nervousness of the Japanese people."

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 10. (To the Editor of The Register:) Eighty-two years ago California entered the Union, on a bet. The bet was that the country would eventually be called California and not America.

We took it away from Mexico the next year after we found it had gold. When the gold was all gone we tried to give it back, but Mexico was too foxy for us. In '49 the wayward sons of 10,000 families crossed the country, and the roads was so rough they couldn't get back.

Just when the mining had petered out somebody discovered a moving-picture camera and the old days of '49 were on again. My pictures alone have been the means of bringing every hard-looking old "bird" in the world out here. It's a great old State. We furnish the amusement to the world, sometimes conscientious, sometimes by our films, sometimes by our orators, but you can't beat it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS

against the element which attempted to "gut" the army and navy during the recent session of congress, and pointed out that it was the Legion which saved the army, the Legion which saved the navy, the Legion which saved the C. M. T. C., and R. O. T. C., from disintegration by a group in congress who were working in the interests of "economy."

He warned, however, that there is much to be done and struck a dependent note in connection with the platforms of the two major parties as regards national defense.

Legion Finances
Stevens said the Legion is in good financial condition and that its quota of members for the year has been attained, although the number is under the all-time high mark of 1,053,000 set last year.

"This year," he said, "some 90,000 were unable in this time of economic depression to pay their dues, but who, according to the report, will be back in the Legion when the country recovers from the financial sickness that has prevailed."

In the field of employment he said the Legion's "war against depression" resulted in 1,000,000 men being put back to work.

In the field of rehabilitation, he said, recoveries amounted to $7,500,000, an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the previous year.

Child Welfare
The Legion and the Legion auxiliary during the year have engaged in child welfare work as never before. They have provided the necessities of life for 2160 children of destitute veterans and through other channels have cared for many more thousands.

The national Americanism program of the Legion has aided 27,000,000 children in the study of the flag; put more than 500,000 boys to playing junior baseball; aided 75,000 boys in Boy Scout work; awarded $5,000 medals to school children, and aided thousands of boys in the National Guard, C. M. T. C. and R. O. T. C.

1200 STUDENTS SIGN FOR WORK IN HIGH SCHOOL
Because of extra heavy enrollment in the manual training department of the Fullerton union high school, an extra teacher for three-fourths time work is to be employed by the board at a special session Monday morning. The enrollment had reached 1200 Friday night and 160 registrations held from last year had not appeared. In junior college, the enrollment is 240 more this morning than at the close of the week of registration last year.

Due to the telegraphed resignation of the Fullerton union high school, newly employed director of water sports and activities and coach of the Class C football and basketball teams of the high school, James R. Smith was accepted this morning to fill the position.

Smith comes highly recommended from the Long Beach union college, where he was employed last year. He is a graduate of University of Southern California. In addition to his high school work he was director of play for the city of Long Beach.

Mr. Abercrombie was employed to fill the vacancy left by Al Dowden, who accepted a position as swimming coach of the University of California at Berkeley. His telegram of resignation gave no reasons for the action, Louis Plummer, principal of the schools said today, but stated a letter follows with explanations.

Sunshine Is Measured In Scotland

California seems to merit the term "Sunny California," if notice is taken of the amount of sunshine that is received in Scotland. In an issue of the Glasgow Sunday Post, dated August 21, received by George Phillips, from relatives, a sunshine table, similar to the rain tables kept here, is featured on one page.

The table shows that but little more than 11 hours of sunshine was given to residents of Glasgow during the week ending August 21, while the most shown in the report for any section was 39 hours during the entire week, at Kingussie.

Edinburgh had 12.27 hours of sunshine.

tors for the final day of the fair. It was the third day of the annual convention of future farmers of America and a feature was to be a special racing program in the afternoon.

The program included the running of the state futurity of California bred horses, besides three harness races and a steeplechase, with many of the fine hunters who have appeared at the State Fair Horse Show. Three other running races were also scheduled for the day—one of the greatest racing cards the state fair has ever had.

A wind-up of events at the grandstand tonight will be marked by a brilliant fireworks display and the final curtain on the 1932 fair will be rung down after the big horse show, in which several special events have been provided.

AWAKENS TO FIND BURGLAR IN ROOM

B. E. Eckles of 317 West Washington avenue, awakened at 2:45 a. m. yesterday to find a man in his room, ransacking his wife's purse, he reported to the police.

He jumped out of bed and the man darted out of the room and out of the back door of the house, running north on Durant street.

Police are of the opinion that the man is the same who entered the Harold Brown home at 1525 Durant street on Thursday night when a watch and $16 in cash were taken from Brown's clothes while he was asleep.

Eckles reported that at 10:30 p. m. he saw the same man loitering about his home and at that time he frightened him away. He followed and saw the man enter a car a few blocks away and drive off.

The thief apparently was frightened away soon after he entered the Eckles home, for nothing was reported missing from the purse he was seen ransacking.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Former Mayor James J. Walker sailed secretly today on the liner Conte Grande bound for Italian ports.

He had made no announcement of his plans. His departure was announced by steamship officials after the boat had sailed.

It was understood he would return on the same vessel, going only for the sea trip.

REUNION HELD BY PIONEERS OF WESTMINSTER

More than 80 persons were present at the annual reunion of the Westminster Pioneer association held at Westminster Presbyterian church yesterday.

Officers named were Miss Lottie Lyman, Santa Ana, president; H. B. Anderson, first vice president; Mrs. O. B. Byram, second vice president; and Mrs. Marie Hare, secretary.

The resolutions committee commended the trustees of the Westminster Cemetery association for their work on that board. A floral piece to be placed on the grave in the Anahim cemetery of the Rev. L. B. Weber, the organizer of Westminster colony and of the local Presbyterian church, in commemoration of the 60th anniversary date, tomorrow, was voted.

An article from a San Francisco newspaper, a relic in the keeping of the association concerning Westminster colony, was read by the secretary, Mrs. Helen Schnitzer. Sameon Edwards played the accordion and the mouth organ at the same time, accompanied by Stewart Patterson.

Photographs of early school days in Westminster, the first Westminster band; of the early day creamery and sorghum mill, and of some pioneer residents were on display after the meeting at which time group photographs were taken.

It was announced that among the pioneers who had passed away during the year were the Rev. B. J. Silkwood, Samuel Thompson, Nettie Edwards Stephenson, J. B. Loring, Georgia Abbott Green, Ida Kell Tost, John Wylie Carlyle, Lula Woodington Bradbury and Sarah Patterson.

Dr. C. D. Ball, pioneer physician of this county, who for 45 years has resided in this section, was introduced as president of the Orange County Historical society and following an interesting talk which dealt with early day happenings and of his own personal experiences asked that any relics or articles of early day historical value be presented to the Historical society for the Bowers museum. This brought to light a trophy of an early day ship which was wrecked on the local coast, some bones of a monster whale which was swept ashore, some of the "peet shoes" which were worn by horses in the peet lands in pioneer days and other things of interest.

Present were Stewart Patterson, Lucius D. West, San Diego; Mrs. Nellie Almond Morgan, Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan and daughter, Beverly Morgan, Irvine; Mrs. Stewart Patterson, Los Angeles; Mrs. C. E. Hammond, Monrovia; Mrs. Tottie Stephens Solomon, Redondo Beach; Morton A. Klefhaber, Orange; Mrs. Mary E. Lawton Everett, Mr. and Mrs. E. THREE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS
Three persons were reported injured in two automobile accidents in Orange county yesterday afternoon. No one was seriously hurt.

Elwood Carr, 19, of 2018 Lila Lane, Glendale, suffered cuts and bruises when the car he was driving turned over at the side of the road after it had been crowded off the pavement by a truck, he reported. The accident occurred one mile east of Tustin on Highway No. 101.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hardin, of 8845 San Luis street, Southgate, were cut and bruised when their car tipped over at Ball Road and Magnolia avenue, yesterday afternoon. Hardin, who was driving, attempted to avoid a collision with another car, and ran off the road, the machine overturning in a small ditch.

WOMAN FINED $300 ON LIQUOR CHARGE
Mrs. Elsie Peterson, 22, Santa Ana matron, recently arrested at Fourth street and Broadway on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, pleaded guilty to the charge in Judge J. G. Mitchell's court today and was fined $300.

She was the driver of a car which collided with a machine Thursday night driven by C. O. Tracy, of 1310 West Second street. No one was hurt in the accident.

Mrs. Peterson paid the fine.

LIQUOR RETURN WOULD MEAN AUTO INSURANCE RATE BOOST

Automobile owners in Santa Ana and all parts of the state may be hit directly in the pocketbook if voters of the state decide to repeal the Wright act at the coming November election.

This is the opinion of E. Ray Moore, general manager of the Farmers Auto Insurance Exchange, who believes that insurance rates on automobiles will go up if the ban against liquor in the state is repealed.

"Rates for automobile insurance would very likely go up if the Wright act is repealed," he declared. "There would undoubtedly be many more automobile accidents, as intoxication now plays a large part in the accidents. Statistics prove this in data accumulated from year to year."

"With legalized liquor, it will be much more dangerous to drive on the highway."

"Many insurance companies may do what some are doing now; insert a clause in automobile accident policies that will make the policy void if the drivers are intoxicated at the time of the accident. In this manner any driver who was under the influence of liquor would find himself with no insurance on his car if he had an accident."

Y. M. CAMPERS ENJOY FIRST REUNION MEET

Memories of Osceola were revived at the Y. M. C. A. last night, when the first campers' reunion of the season was held, with a large number of boys attending for dinner and the program which followed.

Camp songs, camp pictures and camp stories made up the central interest of the evening. Short talks were given by R. M. McArthur, Clamen Hickey and John Henderson. Plans were considered for regular monthly meetings to be held during the winter, and the foundation for next year's camp the best ever.

The next camp reunion will probably be held on October 7.

The Friday evening "Fun club" sessions at the Y. M. C. A. are being changed with the beginning of school, and hereafter, instead of being held every Friday evening, they will be staged once a month. The next Fun club session will be on September 23, at which time Secretary D. H. Tibbals promises an evening which the boys will remember.

Next week's schedule of special boys' activities at the Y. M. C. ALCOHOL PLANT GUARD FORCE STRENGTHENED

Rumors apparently from Los Angeles to the effect that gangsters were planning a raid on the United States Industrial Alcohol plant at Anaheim, sometime in the near future, today caused officials of the plant and Anaheim police officers to strengthen guards about the plant, it was learned today.

The sheriff's office here reported that it had had no report on the rumors and that no call for aid had been received from Anaheim. J. J. Buckhard, manager of the plant, said he had heard the rumor and had called the Anaheim police regarding them. He said he had strengthened guards about the plant and the Anaheim police last night made regular calls to the place.

The plant is the only one of its kind in the county and it has a capacity for making approximately 2000 gallons of grain alcohol per day, it was said.

C. I. McCoy, former beauty shop operator here, has filed suit against Mae Rupnow to collect $1400 said to be owing him on a promissory note. Plaintiff claims he holds a chattel mortgage on the equipment of the shop located on Main street here. He asks that the equipment be sold and if it does not bring enough to satisfy the note, that a deficiency judgment be issued.

"I think both persons who thought they saw him were mistaken," Mrs. Margaret Dreier Robins told the United Press at her sister's summer cottage here. "I do not believe Mr. Robins is or has been in Chicago recently."

Colonel Robins, veteran dry campaigner, peace advocate, and friend of presidents, vanished while en route to keep an appointment with President Hoover at the White House.

Discounts Amnesia Theory
Although Mrs. W. Rega Bryant and W. H. Haupt, who claimed to have seen Robins in Chicago, were described as long-time friends of the colonel, Mrs. Robins said neither name was familiar to her. This was not significant, she emphasized, because the international activities of her husband over a long period had won him hundreds of friends and acquaintances unknown to her.

She also discounted a suggestion that the colonel may be an amnesia victim.

"Unless he has been drugged or met with some accident, I do not believe he would be afflicted with amnesia," she said.

Mrs. Robins reiterated her belief that "the Hernandez county gang got him." She referred to the section of Florida where she and her husband aroused antagonism through political crusading, she feels that Florida bootleggers, fearful that her husband's scheduled conference with President Hoover was for the purpose of turning the attention of federal authorities to conditions in Hernandez county, either kidnaped or killed the colonel.

of the U. S. steamboat inspection service said.

Thoroughly Inspected
The steamer had been "thoroughly inspected" as late as July 2. Another inspection was completed April 18. Apparently everything was ship shape.

However, the Ormaiztegui Workers' union whose members were forced to use the ship because the regular municipal ferry was overcrowded, had protested that the observation was overcrowded, "unmanned and unworthy."

Aside from such an unverified report there were these possible causes of such a terrific explosion: Intimate Carelessness

Use of salt water instead of fresh water in the boilers because of its convenience. Salt weakens the seams.

Too much steam pressure, the result of defective safety valves or carelessness in watching the gauge.

While the investigations got under way to determine if negligence, which might result in manslaughter charges, was responsible, the steamer's captain lay injured under guard. His father was killed.

Alexander Forsythe, the captain, is 24. His father, George, was 66. They had owned and operated the combination excursion steamer-ferry for several years.

CHARGE CRUELTY IN SEEKING DIVORCES

Two suits for divorce have been filed in superior court by wives seeking legal separation from their husbands.

Helen E. Blue is seeking a divorce from her husband, Clifford H. Blue. They were married in Huntington Beach in July, 1926, and separated September 1, 1932.

The complaint charges Blue with extreme cruelty to his wife. The plaintiff asks custody of a five-year-old son and money for his support.

Charging extreme cruelty, Marguerite H. Fisher is asking for a divorce from her husband, Lester M. Fisher. They were married in March, 1928 and separated on August 11, 1932.

Mrs. Fisher charges that her husband stayed out until the early morning hours. She wound a film, which after being developed, showed him in company with another woman, she charged. She said she had to support him as well as herself during her married life.

In addition, she claims that the defendant pleaded guilty to a burglary charge here in 1929 and was given five years probation.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

Farm Board
President Hoover personally clubbed the Farm Board into that announcement promising not to market its wheat and cotton.

The Board statement was made against its will. Members thought they could ease their holdings into the market without influencing prices. They were determined upon that course.

Jesse Jones, Democratic cotton man on the R. F. C. thought differently. He and others carried the matter to the President. Farm Board Chairman Stone was called on the carpet.

Presto—changed the Board decided it would be better to keep its holdings.

The thing was carried out so skillfully the public did not even know the fight had been on before it was over.

The Farm Board now will go away back and sit down.

There is a private understanding that it will keep its hands out of the commodity markets. That important business will be handled by the R. F. C.

It will play around solely with the cooperative movement. Essentially that means the Farm Board is dead although funeral arrangements may not be announced until next June. Its appropriations expire then.

Prices
Statement of the row discloses the extent to which the Administration is privately willing to go to help the price of the nation's two great farm commodities.

Wheat jumped three cents the day the Farm Board announcement was made. Cotton was helped to a lesser degree.

Nearly every insider in Washington now realizes Mr. Hoover's best chance of reelection hinges on boosting wheat to 55 cents and cotton to 14 cents by October 15. The political motive may be secondary but it is nevertheless important.

The R. F. C. may help the good cause along by a loan shortly to buy wheat for export. That is an ace in the hole. It will not be used unless necessary.

The best Washington judges think there is a good chance of the Administration accomplishing its unanimously approved purpose. There are some who think wheat may go to 70 cents. Doubt is expressed about the immediate market. Bad European news has been highly overplayed. Balkan and Russian production have not been as bad as we had hoped for.

The same boys who follow the markets here think 12 cent cotton is a certainty. They see a possibility of 15 cents. That might make a whale of a difference in the election.

Shift

The lineup at the White House has been changed suddenly again. Ted Clark, former Coolidge secretary, has walked out as quietly as he came in. Presidential Publicity Secretary Joslin who was slated for a permanent rest has returned to his old job.

Publication of the stories that Clark was a drug store lobbyist for Louis Liggett is one of the inside reasons for calling off the switch. The stories were phony but they sounded bad. Clark's lobbying hands were really tied by his White House connection. He was just trying to help out the Republican campaign. He did not need the White House connection. It needed him.

Mr. Hoover sent Clark on a secret mission to former President Coolidge immediately after the switch was called off. That happened to be the same day that Mr. Coolidge's pronouncement for Mr. Hoover appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

The President was more than pleased with the Coolidge statement. His friends indicated some more active Coolidge participation in the campaign would be welcomed. The understanding here is that they may be disappointed in that but no one really knows.

Notes
Mr. Coolidge wrote his endorsement of the President six weeks before it appeared in print.

They say the money he received for writing it was given to the Republican campaign fund. Figures showed banks increased their non-governmental securities investments $28,000,000 last week.

That indicates even banks have confidence in bond prices. It looks now as if both parties will wind up the campaign with a deficit. Money is very slow coming in but expenses are not. There is practically no important betting in Washington on the Presidential election. Odds of 7 to 1 on Mr. Hoover are quoted by brokers but there is no money in sight on either side.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin
Stock Market

A large commission house which deals primarily with the public rather than with professional traders has had a steady average of 34% of total Stock Exchange business for years—in both good times and bad. In the past few weeks the percentage has shown a marked drop. In the same period more accounts have been closed than have been opened. This house is convinced that the public is getting uneasy about the market and is refusing to be kidded into buying or waiting for a further rise.

Stock prices in general are at present about 28 times earnings as against 16 times earnings at the peak of the 1929 boom. Such a disproportionate ratio is hardly likely to last long. Earnings must go up—or else!

Would-be wise guys are having lots of fun forming pools to bull individual issues. It is mostly time stuff.

Trade

Informed opinion holds that there will be an autumn trade recovery but that it will only amount to 70% of the usual seasonal gain. Considering the present low stage of business its effect will be more psychological than practical.

There is no brass-tack good news yet from the retail sales field. Department stores are hoping that an upturn this month in children's clothing and supplies will help turn the tide. Merchandise inquiries have become more encouraging within the past ten days. Women are showing interest in ready-to-wear and accessories to a degree that a month ago was hardly to be expected.

Men's apparel is also so satisfactory in comparison with recent months. This has put the buyers in position to go into the markets with substantially better strength than had been estimated. But actual sales are moderate, thus far.

A number of hosiery manufacturers are keeping their factories going 24 hours—not to make more money but to lose less. Overhead on a 12 hour day would eat them up completely.

The woolen industry is showing improvement because the conditions have been so bad that only the strongest have been able to survive. The strong usually play with each other when it comes to not flooding the markets.

Big mail order houses are buying gingham rather heavily. They figure that feminine demand for cheaper fabrics will make itself felt this fall.

Insurance
Market values of insurance company security holdings are nearer their book value since the market for various states has been thrown back into confusion. Commissions of various states may compel mutual companies to cease paying dividends until income conditions actually warrant their resumption.

Hangover
The long arm of the tax collector is annoying a lot of people who acquired United Founders stock in exchange for American Bonds in 1929. The Government has ruled that the transaction rates as a sale at a profit. The tax amounts to many times the present value of the stock. Some of the holders haven't as much money left as the Treasury is trying to collect from them.

Sidelights
Straw vote trends show that the proportion of women's votes for Hoover from the farm states has increased markedly since his acceptance speech. Men's votes have gone the other way. Republicans will take the cue. The Democrats are thinking of sending Senator Joe Robinson through the corn belt to assure the ladies that Roosevelt's election will not mean a return of the saloon. Republican headquarters at the Waldorf is very serious. It is hard to crash the gate without credentials. Democratic headquarters at the Biltmore is just that. Visitors can wander around at will.

STRESS SAFETY FIRST TALLY FOR CHILDREN ON STRAW VOTE ON HIGHWAYS TODAY

With school reopening Monday morning, Captain H. C. Meehan of the California highway patrol, today issued a statement asking the cooperation of the public in regard to safety of school children.

Earl R. Abbey, county coroner, wrote a letter to Capt. Meehan commending him on the manner in which highways outside the incorporated cities were patrolled last year. There was not a single accident to a school child in the area patrolled by the California highway patrol, Abbey declared.

All school buses in the county have been brought up to a high standard of equipment and efficiency as required by the state board of education and the highway patrol, it is reported.

Following is the statement made by Capt. Meehan:

Will Prosecute
"Those endangering the lives of school children will be vigorously prosecuted and no leniency will be shown whatever. Traffic Officer George Peterkin has been detailed exclusively to school work this year and it will be his duty to supervise the safety of all children either walking to school or riding on the buses."

"Other cars must stop for school buses which have stopped for the purposes of taking on or discharging passengers, and having so stopped may then proceed carefully past the bus at a speed no greater than 10 miles an hour. This also means the cars which are coming toward the bus as well as those headed in the same direction and the width of the street has no bearing in the matter whatever. In many cases in the past the public has professed ignorance of such a law but no excuses will be accepted as the law has been in effect for several years and last year a campaign of educating the public was conducted with publicity in the papers, posters on the buses and talks before schools, service clubs and Parent-Teacher associations."

Tips For Parents
"Parents are urgently requested to stop the practice of allowing children to use skates and scooters on the way to school as the temptation is too great to continue across the street on the same with resultant loss of equilibrium and inability to stop in case of sudden necessity."

"Parents should again refresh the memory of their children as to the safety rules and laws but before doing so should be sure that they know the rules themselves as it has been our experience that many parents have given the children the wrong instructions. Especially should the children be taught not to run across the highway but to wait until no cars are near and WALK quickly across with the older children keeping an eye out for the youngsters."

"Motorists must cut down their speed past the schools and the courts of the county have indicated that they will deal severely with this class of offenders. All schools of the county have been freshly sign posted with pavement signs so that the motorist cannot be unaware that he is approaching a school."

"All parents are urged to personally accompany their children to school on the opening day picking the safest route for the child with instructions as to their actions and should see that these are obeyed as the life of the child may depend upon it."

"Children should be instructed not to accept rides from strangers or any one else without special permission, in fact have nothing to do with strangers."

Santa Anans Leave For Legion Meet
Two Santa Ana members of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion will carry the local colors to the national convention of the Legion, which starts in Portland Monday and continues for three days.

PIE BAKING CONCERN TO LOCATE HERE
Santa Ana will acquire another industry when the King Pie company, formerly of Long Beach, moves headquarters to Santa Ana in the near future. It was announced today by George Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

The plant will be located in the Broadway building on the west side of Broadway between Second and Third streets. It is expected that operations will be started about September 16.

LUMBER MILLS REPORT FLOW OF BUSINESS
With lumber mills experiencing the most favorable flow of new business in several months there has been a significant strengthening of the sagging lumber market, according to most recent available statistics gathered by the Orange County Lumber Exchange. While the California market has not forged ahead as in other sections, mill prices are firm, the reports show.

Under date of August 30 a report to the California Lumber Merchant says that the greatest activity in five years is manifested in the Yellow Pine market. Mills west of the Mississippi river are withdrawing price lists and issuing advancing ones. The demand covers the Southwest and Middle West and sweeps Eastward. The optimism in the Yellow Pine area is said to be largely the result of the soaring cotton market.

The National Lumber Manufacturers Association reporting for 624 leading mills for the week ending August 20 show a favorable flow of new business with orders for 145,000,000 feet. This was 32 per cent above the curtailed cut. Shipments for the week were 22 per cent over the cut.

PREDICTION OF GREATEST DRY CRUSADE MADE

"America has been lazy on the dry question and the devil has been busy," declared Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess, of Orange, state W. C. T. U. director of scientific temperance instruction, at yesterday afternoon's closing session of the forty-third annual county convention of the W. C. T. U. at the First Presbyterian church in Tustin.

"America has been flooded with money by the liquor dealers of the world. We are facing an Armageddon and must fight. We don't have the money, but we do have the time and must work. Serve in your own precinct," the speaker urged.

Mrs. Hess gave an interesting report of the recent national W. C. T. U. convention at Seattle, stating that 522 new unions were organized in the United States last year. She said that Mrs. Victoria Booth Demorest, granddaughter of General Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, stated during her address at the convention that it is greater to be an obscure member of the W. C. T. U. than any artist or orator or musician. Continuing, Mrs. Hess said, in part:

"The Rev. C. Atterbury, of the Seattle Ministerial Union, said there are three great factors to blame for the wet mood in which we find ourselves: First, break down in personal discipline. Second, immense propaganda. Third, rather wide sale of liquor. The individual has had a break-down on the interior. I am conscious of a change of mood in the mind of the individual. There is a definite break down. Because of this I am amazed prohibition has been as effective as it has been. The abnormal condition we are in comes as a result of the World war and not in a hundred years will we stop paying the toll of that terrible war. If good has come through all of this, what would happen of good if we were normal? The way folks treat prohibition is the way they treat everything else. We live in a new America, a wild America, which has lost its spiritual keel.

"The temperance battle must be done all over again in the pulpits of America. If we are defeated this year, we will know the enemy is massed and we must rush with a counter offensive and give him the battle of his life, before we are through. The next 10 years will see the greatest temperance crusade in all history."

Musical numbers on the afternoon program included community singing, organ numbers by Mrs. J. Stuart Hyndman, and two solos, "Goin' Home" and "Four Leaf Clover" by Mrs. Vera Smith, accompanied by Miss Erna Knapp at the piano. Following the devotional period, conducted by the Rev. Howard Nason, pastor of the Tustin Advent Christian church, brief reports were given by the county directors, and Mrs. Kate C. Ebel, of Tustin, read an original poem on prohibition.

Mrs. Anna Short, president of the St. Louis, Mo., county W. C. T. U. and a special guest at yesterday's session, made a short talk following introduction by Mrs. Cora Hale, county president, who presided at the convention, and who with other county officials was re-elected yesterday.

VINES CRUSHES COCHET, KEEPS TITLE

Saints To Meet Orange Sept. 24, Cathedral Oct. 1

SANTA BARBARA OFF SCHEDULE; SHIFT DUNCAN

Leading up to its first Coast Preparatory league game with Long Beach October 8, Santa Ana High football squad will play only two non-conference games—one with Orange here September 23 or 24, the other with Cathedral, Los Angeles, here October 1.

The Saints will be idle next week, Poly field being taken over by Santa Ana's junior collegians who face Long Beach.

The Orange and Cathedral contests are all that remain of Santa Ana's inviting pre-season schedule which once listed such schools as Santa Barbara, Covina and Manual Arts.

Coch "Tex" Oliver and other HI attaches remained discreetly silent on this point but unofficial observers were less tactful. They said everybody else had steered clear of the defending Southern California champions, especially Santa Barbara, which assertedly clamored for a Santa Ana game for two years and then backed down when finally given a place on the Saint program.

Santa Barbara Scratched
Coach A. J. Schutte, conferring with Coach Oliver today, begged to have the game scratched because, he said, Santa Barbara is free-lancing this season and a defeat by Santa Ana would count against Santa Barbara in the Southern California championship reckoning. Santa Ana, Schutte added, appeared to be too strong for his Padres. Oliver agreed to call off the game.

The Santa Ana-Orange affair, however, should be an ideal seasonal opener. Coach Stewart White has better than an average run of material at the neighboring school this season and his "average run" has been good enough to embarrass Santa Ana more than once. The Orangemen have been champions of their conference for two years and are heavily favored to win the flag again.

Cathedral is a Los Angeles Catholic institution which is desirous of entering the Coast league. Its application was temporarily denied last spring but will probably be granted next year if Cathedral shows itself capable of competing on even terms with Santa Ana and other current contenders.

Scrimmage Due Today
The schedule finally arranged, HI's gladiators were to round out a hard week of practice with another scrimmage this afternoon. At the same time, Coach Oliver planned to move his most versatile player, blond Herb Duncan, from guard to center in an effort to bolster what thus far appears to be the squad's weakest link. "Bud" Boyle, tentatively assigned the job, has done fairly well but Oliver sees no percentage in losing a fine tackle to acquire a fair center so Boyle probably will go back to his 1931 position permanently. Dave Webb, best of the inexperienced centers, must learn much of offensive play and Dick DeSmet's passing has been too erratic to keep him in the running. DeSmet will probably be released at guard.

Meanwhile, Oliver issued a frantic call for backfield candidates. Only 13 men are out for ball-packing positions now, hardly enough to assure the Saint mentor suitable reserve strength. He says if more backs don't respond, he'll have to transform some of his linemen into backs.

OILERS WILL PLAY AT MONTEREY PARK

Santa Ana's Hancock Oil baseball club play the second game of a doubleheader at Monterey Park Sunday. The game will be called at 3 o'clock, the curtain-raiser being a seven-inning local affair. The Oilers expect to be represented by a combination that will click, those promising to report including Bill Sweet, Terry Griffith, Henry Thier, "Chisel" Hatfield, "Bono" and Joe Koral, Joe Maldonado, Leavitt Daley, "Memmo" Hapes, Joe Cornelius, Clarence Hapes, Jimmy Hall, Frederick Lindsey and Joe Erwin.

The grounds at the Santa Ana Airways are nearly completed and are expected to be ready for play September 18, at which time the new uniforms furnished by Roy Langley, distributor of Hancock Gasoline in Orange county, will be displayed for the first time.

GRUBER RAISES JAYSEE HOPES

Giant Fullback From Inglewood Reports to Cook

LOCAL SCHEDULE TOPSY-TURVY

Surprises have been many during Santa Ana junior college football drill this week.

The latest pleasant shock to Coach Bill Cook came at Poly field yesterday when three unexpected candidates—Gene Gruber, 195-pound fullback from Inglewood; Glen ("Bud") Hartman, tackle; and Claude ("Swede") Williams, halfback, checked out tops. Walter Workman and Glen Bohland, unknown to Santa Ana, also joined the Dons to increase the turnout roster to 48 members.

It was through Captain Jim Hall, who attended military camp with the Inglewood prospect this summer, that Gruber was persuaded to enroll here. Hall tells that Gruber was the "toughest fellow in camp during vacation," and the husky fullback did not embarrass his reputation yesterday when he carried the ball into a blind defensive spot and plunged right on through the line as if it were made of paper.

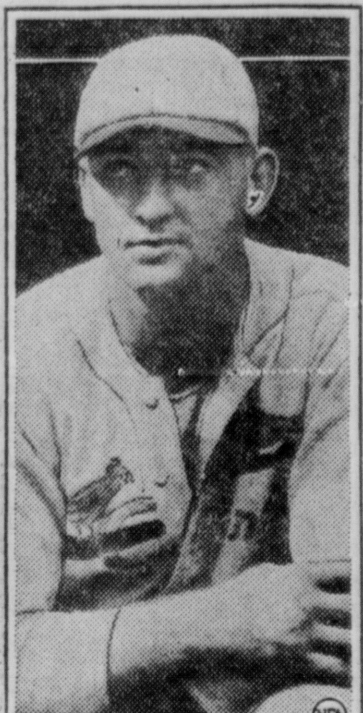

Hartman and Williams are former Santa Ana HI players. Hartman is out for tackle. Williams is expected to concentrate on the line, probably at guard. With "Freshmen Week" over of the way, the junior college roster should contain more than 60 prospects when the Dons resume drill Monday in preparation for their tentative practice game with Long Beach the following Saturday. The contest is scheduled for Poly field.

The 1932 football schedule for the Orange Empire conference has been revamped so many times that even the coaches are in a state of confusion. Although the latest arrangement received by Santa Ana sends the Dons to San Bernardino for their first game October 3, Coach Bert Heiser of Chaffey insists that his Ontario Panthers are scheduled to open here on that date.

Other difficulties center around the Santa Ana-Pasadena practice contest October 1. The Don mentor understands that Coach Frank Baker of Pasadena, forgetting his Santa Ana engagement, has given away that date to another institution. Cook immediately plans to investigate previous arrangements, and to find out just how much of his original schedule—opening at San Bernardino and closing at Fullerton—holds good. The Dons at least have one definite engagement, and that is with the U.S.C. Frosh in Olympic stadium two weeks from today.

Right on the heels of Santa Ana in starting drill this week, Fullerton, Chaffey, Pomona, San Bernardino and Citrus have issued calls. Riverside, however, will not start until September 21, following four days of "skull" practice at Idyllwild. Their tardiness seems to have little effect on the Tigers, since they have been the champion of the old eastern division for the past three years.

San Bernardino will try tight football this season. Under new lights Coach Art Schaefer's Indians will meet Glendale junior college in a practice game September 23. Seven regulars, including an experienced backfield combination, were among those answering Schaefer's first call. Jack Keough, brother of the dangerous "Zeke" Keough, former Chaffey quarterback, heads a list

The new figure in the outfield of the St. Louis Cardinals is Signor George Puccinelli, shown above, Cardinal farm hand who came on from Rochester in the International league to aid the Streetmen. Puccinelli answers to the name of "The Count" or "Pooch." He hits 'em—a mere .397 batting average at Rochester.

GUS MORELAND DARK HORSE OF U. S. AMATEUR

BY STUART CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Boys' Gus Moreland, of Texas, was established today as the dark horse of the National Amateur Golf Championship starting here Monday.

Moreland was overlooked by the powers of the United States Golf association when the original U. S. Walker Cup lists were prepared, but omission of his name brought a thunder of protest from golfing writers.

Later, Francis Ouimet, cup team captain, became ill and Jess Sweetser came down with a heavy cold. So they sent for Moreland. Ouimet named him for the team.

The young Southwesterner won his singles match over England's great Lex Hartley, and, partnered with Charley Seaver, crushed Tony Torrance and John De Forest, in the Scotch foursome play.

Now Moreland is out at the Five Farms course, his game in pre-championship practices fully as formidable as it was in the cup matches at Brookline.

Brilliant medalist, Moreland is conceded an excellent chance to win first honors in Monday's and Tuesday's 18-hole qualifying rounds. And his sparkling play at Brookline has made veteran golfing observers regard him as an entire possible successor to the title now held for a second time by veteran bespectacled Ouimet.

Yesterday, while opening his golf bag here, Moreland cut several fingers of his hand, but it was expected the injuries would heal in time to permit him to play.

Most of the stars are already here. One in particular, Tony Torrance, captain of the British Walker Cup team, has served notice that he will be a tough contender. Yesterday he toured the Five Farms course in 63, two under par.

Another brilliant score was turned in by Chandler Egan, of Del Monte, Calif., who won the championship in 1905. He shot a 69.

MISS HOLM BREAKS OWN WORLD RECORD

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Eleanor Holm, winsome girl of several traces, has ended the swimming season in a blaze of glory.

For the first time in the history of the national singles tournament, a player—and an Englishman at that—appeared on the court in shorts instead of the traditional long white flannels. But if Henry W. (Bunny) Austin realized the stir created by his attire, it made no difference to his game.

Gilbert Now Trojan; Has 24:6 Record

Doyle Gilbert, stellar broad-jumper from Santa Ana junior college, transferred today to the University of Southern California where he will be eligible for varsity track next spring.

With a personal record of 24 feet, 6 3-8 inches, Gilbert was by far the best jumper in the Southern California jaysce conference last season, holding the league record of 24 feet. He placed in the Far West Olympic trials at Long Beach and competed in the final American tryouts at Stanford.

Erv Watkins, Santa Ana jaysce halfback from Tustin, also became a Trojan by transfer today.

With workmen predicting that the track will be in the finest shape since the game was inaugurated at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl, some 45 motorbike racing professionals today made final adjustments on their mounts for tonight's 18-event speed card.

While Ray Grant and "Jumping Jack" Milne, hailing from Portland and Hollywood, respectively, were confident of duplicating their victorious driving of a week ago, the other stars are sure of unleashing some dazzling speed and of outmaneuvering the aforementioned pair.

In the opinion of Miny Wain, "Big Bo" Lissman and a few others, Grant and Milne received "all the breaks" last week.

Claim Track Favored Grant
Wain and Lissman contend that the course was just suited for the machines that Grant and Milne rode.

"The surface was too fast and too slick," said Wain, "It was great stuff for fellows like Grant and Milne. Their motors lack the horsepower that my machine, Lissman's motor, and several others have. But it will be a different story tonight. We'll have a better track to work on and we'll show the fans some real broadsiding."

It is Wain's claim that he could not turn loose his powerful English Douglas last week and sharing Miny's view are such ambitious chaps as Cordy Milne, Ted King, Wilbur Lameroux, Dick Springston and Jimmy Gibbs.

Springston Adopts S. A.
Orange county has two daredevil adopted sons in the persons of King and Springston, both flying Santa Ana colors.

Springston, who originally hailed from Fresno, took up his abode in Santa Ana so as to be in a central point on the Southland circuit of tracks. King of a six-footer who learned rough-and-tumble on a Long Beach high school football team years ago, which stands him in good stead as pilot of Bruce Rathbun's creation.

Fans appear to be deriving plenty of thrills from this English-style racing innovation in Santa Ana as well as in San Diego and Los Angeles. This is attested to by the crowds of close to 3000 which have weekly been witnessing the speed battles.

MR. M'LEMORE ALREADY KNOWS SERIES VICTOR

BY HENRY M'LEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—That very choice nut, the baseball filibert, is always in season, but right now the species is falling off the trees in great numbers and can be had for a dime a dozen.

Many connoisseurs prefer the winter variety (they are always roasted around a hot stove), probably the choicest variety of the baseball filibert is the goosus world series, which reaches its height in late September and early October. While a trifle early, they are already maturing, and can be seen in abundance.

Due to a letter we have received from Wisconsin, we suspect that state already has had a sharp froet. Listen to this and see if you don't agree with us:

"Dear Sir: I am sending you a box score of the first game of the 1932 world series, and the results of the other games. The games were played on a miniature baseball game of my own design. What do you think of the whole thing?" And he wasn't kidding! He did. The whole world series has been settled, right in the living room of a Wisconsin home. Who do you think won? The Yankees, the Rupert Rifles taking four games out of five from the Chicagoans. The only time the Cubs made a showing was in the fourth game when Lon Warneke, who had dropped the first game to "Lefty" Gomez by a score of 7 to 5, came back and bested Phipps 4 to 2.

The Yanks were off to a strong start in this game, getting two runs in the first inning, but the Cubs rallied for four in the fifth to clinch the game. Both clubs got 10 hits.

The first game was a thriller, the New Yorkers scoring the tying and winning runs in the ninth. It was Guy Bush against Charley Ruffing in the second encounter with "Big Red" coming out on top 10 to 8. Again the Yanks pulled the game out of the fire with three runs in the ninth.

Allan Pennock worked for the Yanks in the third and managed to ease out an 8 to 7 decision. It was in this game that Guadalupe batted for Malone and Hoag for Allen. Unfortunately, our Wisconsin friend failed to tell what the pinch-hitters did. We have a feeling, however, that Guadalupe failed to Chapman and Hoag forced Dickey, Grimm to Herman.

After dropping the fourth game, thus spoiling Colonel Ruppert's dream of a clean sweep, the Yanks ended it in the fifth when Gomez blanked the Cubs with three hits while his mates pounded Bush and Root for 17 hits and 10 runs. It is a great relief to know that Babe Ruth got in the battle. It would have been a shame had his stomach-ache spoiled his hope of playing in his 10th series. But our filibert's statistics were sadly lacking in several important details. Why did Grimm take Koenigs off short and send in Jurgens? Did Ruth hit any homers? Hay many? Why didn't Grimes pitch? How many bases did Chapman steal? What was the attendance? The gate receipts? The players' cut? The commissioner's cut? Who threw out the first ball?

U. S. CHAMPION WINS IN THREE STRAIGHT SETS

WEST SIDE STADIUM, FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Ellsworth Vines, of Pasadena, Calif., established himself as the world's greatest tennis player today when he defeated Henri Cochet of France, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, in the final round of the 51st annual Men's National tennis championship.

Before more than 15,000 spectators who jammed every available inch of space in the ample stadium, the tall Californian turned loose a game that literally smothered the smooth-striking Frenchman. The victory was a most satisfying one for Vines. It not only enabled him to retain his National title but proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that his victory over the French ace in the final match of the recent Davis Cup series was no fluke.

Vines Attains Heights
In flouncing the man who has long been recognized as the greatest player of them all, Vines' game reached height never equaled on the historic courts of the West Side stadium. "Big Bill" Tilden, Rene LaCoste, "Little Bill" Johnston—none of them ever flashed the superb power the magnificent accuracy that the lanky Westerner had today.

He ended the match just like he started it—in a burst of controlled power. The final point in the match was a blistering service ace that Cochet never even tried to flag down.

Throughout the battle Vines had everything. Off the ground, in the air, at the net, he hit with immaculate length and crispness.

Cochet Outclassed
The little Frenchman, whose strategy before today was considered the finest possible, was continually pulled out of position by the Californian's dynamic drives down the lines.

Once Vines got his opponent on the run, it was all over for nine times out of 10 he put an end to the rally with a forehand stab that dug a divot as it tore into the turf.

The ferocity of Vines' attack is best shown by the stroke analysis. In the three sets Vines scored 81 placements to a mere 10 for Cochet.

Where the Frenchman was stroking with delicacy, Vines was hitting out for the corners and sides with a reckless but controlled abandon.

NBC TO BROADCAST WESTERN FOOTBALL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—(UP)—The Associated Oil company announced today that it had signed contracts to broadcast Western football games this season over all stations on the NBC gold network.

The broadcasts will start Sept. 17, and concluded with the Shrine benefit game at Kezar stadium, San Francisco, Jan. 2, 1933. It will involve 200 stations.

The company will provide its own announcers for the broadcasts. The schedule will be arranged, it was stated, so that a game being broadcast will be heard through a station in a city in which a local interest game is being played during the hours of the broadcast.

RUTH'S CONDITION UNCHANGED, REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Babe Ruth, baseball's most celebrated invalid, is apparently well on the road to recovery and his tenth world series. Yesterday afternoon, following an examination by his physician, Dr. Edward King, it was announced that Ruth's condition was "unchanged."

YOUNG PEOPLE TAKE PART IN DRY CAMPAIGN

In an effort to do their part in keeping the state and nation dry, young people of the Santa Ana First Methodist church have begun a campaign to sell "Keep the 18th Amendment" plates for automobiles.

Louis Vollmer Jr. and Florence Warner are in charge of the sale in Santa Ana. Proceeds from the sale of the plates will be used to stage a dry parade of all young people in Orange county late in October.

With the plates, which are sold for a nominal sum, is given a "Keep the Wright Act" sticker for the windshield of the car. The auto plates are easily attached below the license plates of a car. The entire city will be canvassed by the young people in the sale of the plates. Already 100 of the plates were sold in the Methodist church alone. Plans are under way to get other groups of young people in Santa Ana to sell the plates.

PLAN REUNION FOR ALUMNI OF HEALTH CAMP

All arrangements for the reunion day of the Health Camp Alumni association have been completed. It was announced today by Arlin Perkins, reunion manager. The reunion is to be held tomorrow.

Civic-minded business men have responded generously in donating to the needs of the children, helping to make this first official reunion a successful event, Perkins said.

Staging of the reunion will afford an opportunity for those who have never visited the camp to see the inside story of the health game as it is played by the children at camp.

Guides will be provided to show visitors through the camp, explaining each detail and assuring them of the soundness of an investment of this type. Many of those who have been residents of the camp will be glad to tell of the services of the institution to undernourished children.

A compact program will be presented in the afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock with a feature film and a health camp film. After the program lunch will be served to the alumni in Bristol hall. A luncheon program featuring the Holly Lash Vase students of dancing and singing will be a feature of the day. Closing the day, the Alumni association will hold a business meeting when new officers will be elected and new committees named.

COME to CHURCH

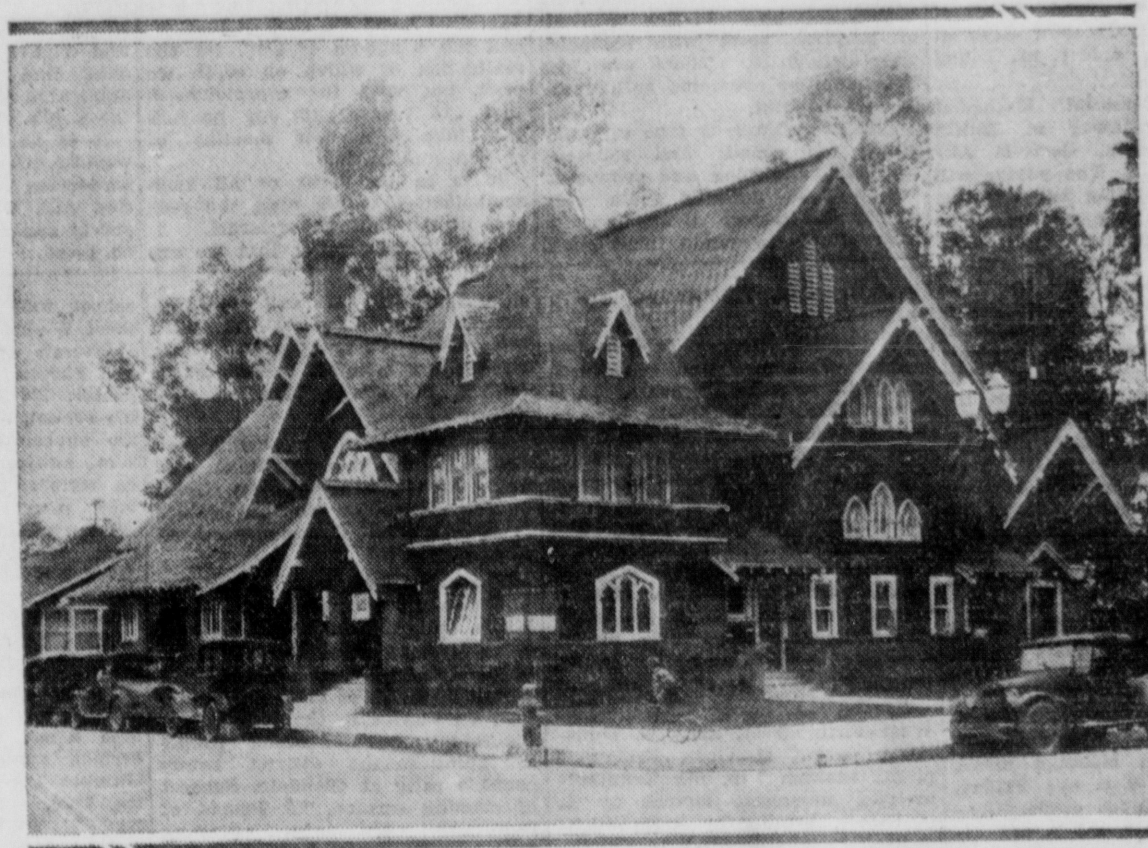

A SERMONETTE

REV. WALTER SCOTT BUCHANAN

Pastor First Christian Church.

"God's Way"

Text.—"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life."—John 3:16.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH, SANTA ANA, CALIF.

of God? Was he not anxious that the ark should be restored to the true place in the kingdom of Israel? Yes, but he disobeyed God's command. It was God's way that men should keep their hands off the ark of the covenant, for he had said, "They shall surely die." The question was not about the condition of Uzzah's heart, or whether or not he was a good man, but the facts are he disobeyed God's command, because of this died.

God's Way with Abraham.—God spoke to Abraham and said unto him, "Abraham," and he said, "Here am I." "Take thy son, thine only son, whom thou lovest, and offer him there for a burnt-offering upon one of the mountains which I will show thee." What! would God command a father to put his son to death? Was not this command entirely wrong, and didn't Abraham have an opportunity to justify himself, in the sight of man, to refuse to obey this command? Here was a command that was clearly wrong in itself, yet God commanded and that was enough. Abraham proceeded to prepare for the three days' journey. He did not consult his neighbors or his wife or his servants, and say, "Don't you think I will be saved if I refuse to take my son's life?" but, believing in God and desiring to obey his every command, he took his son and proceeded to the mount to which God directed him. Upon this mountain he erected an altar, and after placing the kindling, which his son bore on his back up the mountain, upon the altar, he bound his son and laid him upon the altar, and raised his hand containing the knife, to strike the blow that would sacrifice his son to the God who gave the command. But God said, "Abraham!" and he said, "Here am I, Lord;" and God showed him the ram that was tangled in the bushes, which he should offer as a sacrifice. You say God commanded Abraham to take his son's life in order to test him. Just so does God give every command in order to test his children. Not one command in the entire Bible, which came from the heart of God, is trivial or should be set aside as one having no consequence.

God's Way with Israel in the Camp.—Let us again look at God as he deals with the children of Israel, as they are in the camp on the way to the land of Canaan. We find the children of Israel complaining against Moses and against all that was true, and longing for the old life in Egypt. During this complaining, God sent fiery serpents among the people, and they stung the people, and much people of Israel died. The people repented and prayed unto Moses that he pray unto God and have him take away the serpents. Moses offered his prayer, and God gave his command as follows: "Make thee a fiery serpent and set it upon a standard; and it shall come to pass that every one that is bitten, when he seeth it, shall live." Moses carried out the command, and things happened just as God said they would. Let's see—was there any healing power in the pole, or any healing power in the brazen serpent? Wouldn't something else have done? As we have said before, we know not why God should command a brazen serpent to be put upon a pole in the midst of a wounded people, whereby they might look and be healed; but this was God's way, and the people had no right to refuse to obey this command; and, indeed, the Israelite who had received the sting of the fiery serpent, and who refused to look upon the brazen serpent, I am sure, died because he disobeyed God.

God's Way with Naaman.—When Naaman, the leper, sought the prophet of God for a healing, he was told to go and wash in the river Jordan seven times, and his flesh would come again as it was before he had the leprosy. Naaman was mad and said: "Are not Abanah and Parphar, the rivers of Damascus, better than the waters of Israel?" Naaman failed to see the one that had given the command. There was no healing virtue in the water, but there was everything in the command. God was wanting obedience, and he would have it, or Naaman could keep his leprosy. But why dip seven times? Would not one dip suffice? Because God had commanded, and Naaman must fulfill every part of the command. But were not six dips as good as seven? No, because God said seven, and he had to dip six times in order to get to the seventh. Faith and repentance and confession are good things and commands of God, but these must take place before we can get to baptism, and if we do not yield to God's command to be baptised, we will keep our sins just as Naaman would have kept his leprosy.

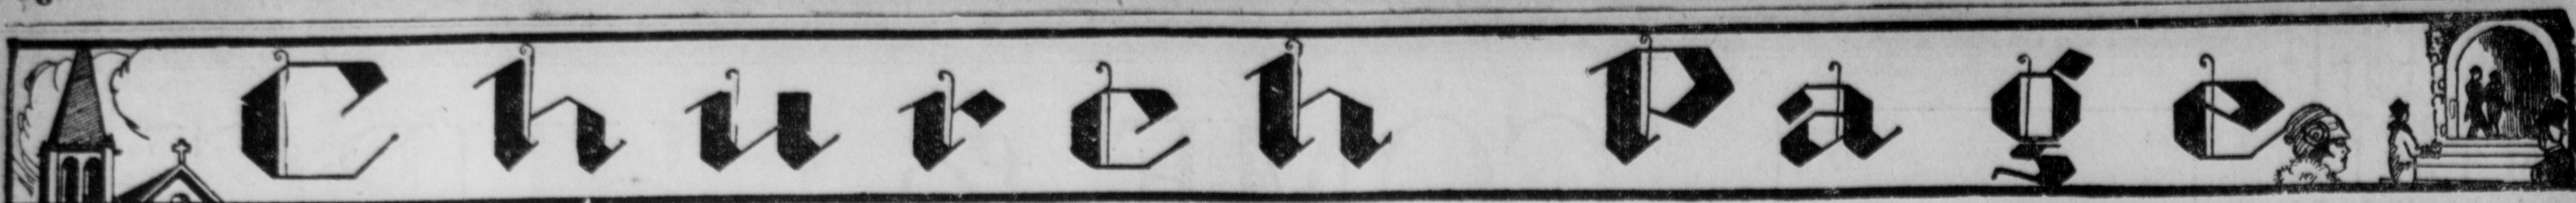

God's Way with Christ.—God sent Christ, his only begotten Son, into the world to die for the sins of the world. Christ said: "I must do my Father's will." "Not my will, Father, but thine, be done," was his prayer in the garden. God commanded Christ to be offered up as a sacrifice as Abraham offered Isaac. He was to be lifted up on the cross as the serpent was lifted up in the wilderness. For Christ says: "If I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." All this God commanded his Son to do before salvation be offered to mankind.

Let us turn our eyes toward the garden of Gethsemane and behold God's Son as he prays. The weight of the world's sin was upon his heart. He was bowed down with grief, and, as he fell upon his knees, realizing that death was soon to come, he cried out: "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." We listen to catch the answer of the Father, but the Father does not speak. Again the Son cries out: "O Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." Again we listen with strained ears to catch the words of the Father, but we are disappointed; the Father does not come to the rescue of his Son; and the third time we hear the Son crying unto his Father: "O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." And then, as if catching himself, he said: "Not my will, but thine, be done." Remember, that God commanded his Son to die upon the cross for our sins. Therefore, my brother, if God would not change his command of death for his only begotten Son, do you think He will change any of His Commands for us? He has said to go into all the world and make disciples of all nations. Do you think he will excuse us if we fail Him? God Almighty has made His plan of Salvation and commissioned us to carry out His Commands and I am sure He will not excuse us if we fail Him.

JOURNEYING TO CANAAN

Text: Num. 10:11-13, 29-36
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for September 11.

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

The study of the vicissitudes and wanderings of the people of Israel in ancient days would have no great value and interest for us beyond the records of any other people or phase of history were it not that these records contain much that is symbolic of the problems of progress for humanity in almost every phase of life.

The individual reads the story of the progress of the people from the bondage of Egypt to the promised land, and he finds in the record an illustration of what is going on in his own life. Much of his effort, if he be a man of earnestness and vision, is concerned with progress.

Whatever his condition, he is always moving toward something better, and he finds this pathway of progress beset with obstacles and difficulties. There are foes that must be overcome both within and without.

The same thing is true of every phase of social and religious progress. Churches and groups of people have definite goals very clearly set before them, and in their efforts to attain these goals they experience a struggle much like those of the children of Israel wandering in the wilderness and marching to the Promised Land. In all social endeavor symbolism of the wilderness and the Promised Land becomes very significant and strongly emphasized in constant references.

Even today we refer to a great and conspicuous leader as "Moses," and we refer to the goal of some social hope as the Promised Land.

Then, there is a further symbolism which, both in relation to the individual and to society, relates to progress toward the unknown. Life itself is a pilgrimage in which we are journeying to the Promised Land of a life beyond and though we have never attained to any very definite conclusions about it, somewhere in our minds there is a strong feeling that society has something of the same end in view, that there is a Promised Land for society that we call the Kingdom of God, for the realization of which on earth we pray, but with the consciousness that the answer to our prayers will involve a new meeting of heaven and earth.

It is in the light of all such symbolism that we read the records of the children of Israel. We must remember that we are reading the story of what happened in a crude age when tribal warfare were keen and relentless, though perhaps after all no more so than the life and death struggle of which modern nations have been engaged within our own time. However, the crudities of an ancient time were for the most part unrelieved by the pacific and beneficent purpose that in many quarters of the modern world is as evident as the spirit of strife and vengeance.

We must not read these records for a moral revelation of the height and beauty of what we find in the New Testament, or even in the Old Testament, in such portions as the book of Jonah, in which we see the great religious mind of Israel coming to the conception of a mercy and love of God which are exercised toward the whole world. But if we read and study these lessons in the light of the larger teaching of the New Testament on peace and righteousness, and love, we shall find the symbolism equally applicable in this higher realm of the soul's quest.

It is at least true that in the world's quest of peace we are still wandering in the wilderness. May God and God's prophets lead us surely and securely to the Promised Land.

LEAFLETS HIT LABOR CLAIMS OF WET FORCES

ORANGE, Sept. 10.—Having attended the county W. C. T. U. convention held Thursday and Friday in Tustin, members of the Orange union are making plans for their first September meeting, to be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Minnie Neville, the president, will be in charge.

Although members of the local union have been holding monthly meetings of semi-monthly sessions during the summer, they have been distributing leaflets and carrying on the work of the organization.

One leaflet, titled, "Liquor and Labor," states, "Open up the breweries and you shut down the mills; the money that goes to liquor cheats three men out of a job. For every million dollars invested, the brewer employed 78 wage earners, while the million dollars in other industries, average 218 workers. So it is to laugh when the wet set up their howl for beer on the basis that it will increase employment."

"The money spent for booze can't buy shoes nor any other legitimate commodity and for every man that might be hired by beer, at least three would be fired from the industries that would lose the beer money. The wet ruse of liquor to solve the unemployment problem is as frothy as the foam on the beer itself."

Another leaflet, titled, "Jobs but Not Jags," says "Many former breweries and distilleries are using about 10 times as much labor as when they made beer and whiskey, and infinitely more raw materials bought from other industries and from the farmer. Pabst in Milwaukee makes famous cheeses; Anheuser-Busch in St. Louis and Willow brewery, soft drinks; Squibbs distilleries in Indiana, stock foods; Peoria, Ill., distilleries, meat products; Blatz brewery, condiments; Capitol brewery, Washington, ice cream; another Milwaukee brewery has become a motorcycle factory others are meat packing plants, maple syrup canneries and makers of malted milk and various other foods that are health giving."

In another leaflet, "Has Prohibition Increased Drinking?" it is stated that "22.43 gallons of liquor was the average for every man, woman and child in the United States yearly from 1910 to 1914. Can anybody believe that is true now? One retail liquor dealer for every 74 families in 1908. The government measured the amount of hops, corn, sugar, rye, barley, etc. raised and imported, then subtracted the amounts used in known legal enterprises, and has reported that the amount of raw material left would make less than one-third of the former liquor consumption."—Col.
